Wenatchee Native Joins New Events Center

Phoenix — Wenatchee native and long-time educator Rob Cline has been named assistant executive director of the Greater Wenatchee Regional Events Center currently under construction.

An 11-year educational administrator in the Cashmere School District, Cline most recently was principal of Vale Elementary School for the past six years and also served the district as federal programs director for the previous four years. Prior to returning to Wenatchee in 1997, Cline taught school in Palmdale, California for 11 years.

Cline currently serves on the Wenatchee Youth Hockey Association board and previously served a one-year term on the Public Facilities District Board, the governing body for the new events center.

Encore Facility Management President Tom Sadler, whose Global Entertainment Corporation subsidiary will manage Wenatchee's new events center, says, "We are proud to welcome one of Wenatchee's own to our company to help develop a unique facility for his hometown. He and (director of sales and marketing) Linda Haglund, also a Wenatchee native, form an ideal complementary management team with local roots that will spearhead our efforts to transform entertainment and recreation opportunities in the entire region."

Cline says, "I am very excited to continue my involvement with this project in the role of assistant director. I look forward to working with all of our sponsorship partners to bring the greater Wenatchee Valley affordable top-notch entertainment.

Cline holds a bachelor's degree in education from Eastern Washington University and a master's degree in educational administration from California State-Bakersfield.

Cline and his wife, Gretchen, reside in Wenatchee with their two sons, Rhett and Rheid.
